Alex is an associate attorney in Zelle's Dallas office, where he represents global insurance companies surrounding first-party property insurance claims. Particularly, his practice focuses on researching and providing in-depth analysis on complex insurance claims before and after suit is filed. He also has considerable experience analyzing and advising clients on breach of contract claims, violations of the Texas Insurance Code, and the Texas Deceptive Trade Practices Act.

Prior to joining Zelle, Alex was an associate at a regional law firm where he advised and represented international insurers relating to specific first-party property insurance claims pre-suit and in litigation. Alex received his J.D. from Southern Methodist University, Dedman School of Law in 2021, where he graduated cum laude and served as the vice president of the Student Bar Association as well as an articles editor for the International Law Review Journal. While in law school, Alex received the 2021 Ben Love Scholarship through the Insurance Law Section of the State Bar of Texas.
