September 18, 2013

Jason Reeves, of Zelle Hofmann's London office, will present on the topic of "Sizing Up Hurricanes: Science, Forecasting, Impacts and Preparedness" at the London Power Forum 2013. Reeves will co-present with Dr. Richard Knabb, Director of the National Hurricane Center.

Reeves' practice includes representing insurers facing catastrophe-related coverage and measurement disputes involving refineries, industrial facilities, off-shore energy infrastructure, commercial property and wind turbines. Superstorm Sandy was a major event and the London Power Forum agenda will include an analysis of Sandy's effects on the utility industry, insurers and the political backdrop.

The London Power Forum, which will be held on Wednesday, November 13, 2013, will take place at East Winter Garden, Canary Wharf, in London.

Now in its seventh year, the Power Forum draws on a select group of underwriters, loss adjusters, engineers and brokers to debate the key insurance issues. For more information regarding London Power Forum 2013, or to register, visit the Power Forum website.
