"Will is a terrific addition to our growing commercial litigation and antitrust practices, and we are excited to have him join the team," said Jim Martin, a member of Zelle's Executive Committee and co-chair of the Firm's Antitrust group. "He is a rising star who will help us continue to meet clients' needs for sophisticated litigation counsel."

"With its stellar reputation and thriving commercial litigation and antitrust practices, Zelle offers a perfect fit for my practice" said Bornstein. "The Firm has a demonstrated record of success as well as a team of attorneys with whom I will enjoy working shoulder-to-shoulder on behalf of clients."
