Jason Reeves Quoted in Bloomberg Law Article Regarding Insurance Dispute Over Climate Change Claim

June 20, 2024

Jason Reeves, a partner in Zelles London office, was quoted in the Bloomberg Law article "Climate, Insurance Row Considered by Hawaii High Court". The article examined the debate between two units of a major insurance carrier and a gas company before Hawaii's high court, and whether the insurers were required to cover legal bills in climate change lawsuits against the gas company. The case is one of the first insurance disputes over climate change-related claims to reach the appellate level. The article can be found here.
